

PHARMA-TECH

Sustainable and biodegradable plastic packaging

Pharma-Tech A/S are experts in producing blow-molded packaging for the food and pharmaceutical industries. Our range of plastic containers and bottles for pharmaceuticals, vitamins, health food supplement, food, household and personal care.

We are experts in producing sustainable packaging in accordance with the principles of circular economy.

Pharma-Tech A/S offers several sustainable solutions, such as producing products in carbon neutral polymers based on bioethanol or using recycled plastic and ocean plastic.

Each of our products is produced from only one type of polymer, which makes them easy to recycle.

Additionally, we can add a special designed biodegradable additive to all our polymers. The biodegradable additive can 100% biodegrade a container in as fast as 10 years.

Environmentally friendly production

Pharma-Tech A/S constantly focuses on reducing energy consumption within our production in order to minimize environmental impact. Over the past three years our energy consumption per kilo of plastic has reduced by 25%. We continuously focus on sustainability throughout the production process.

The production is in clean facilities, HEPA filters are installed and there is constant overpressure to prevent the transference of foreign matter into the production. Each production is controlled with batch numbers and each box/foil package is provided with an individual number.
